Three Men Can Swing Election By Aiding or Deserting Parties

Concerning La Follette.

Mr. La Follette is a Republican, as Mr. Hearst has been a Democrat, in the past. Concerning La Follette, the question is whether he will stand to his par-tisan guns and make a fight for ticket of whether, like Hearst, on the other side, he will find means to throw the real weight of his influence against his own party. If President Roosevelt and Senator

La Follette shall cast all their weight in the scales in favor of Taft, and if drop his fight against Democracy, and autumn to lectures from the chautauautumn to lectures from the chautaudual qualplatform, in which he would explain and defend his course in Congress; and if, under these circumstances, Theodore Roosevelt should hold his peace—then, the election of Bryan might be larly might be larly within the range of probability.

The probable courses of these three levels and ideals.

Therefore, it is expected that at the right time the influence of La Follette will be for Taft, and that it will be so potent that the Taft administration will be forced to realize the obligation it owes to the man from Wisconsin.

**Cook of the Cook of t

neither does he possess a great fortune, as does Mr. Hearst.

He has before him a future to which both ambition and necessity constantly point. There is small doubt that Wisand independent and widespread. But all the evidence is that Mr. La Hearst shall persist and succeed in his purpose to split Democracy, then the election of Taft is considered assured. election of Taft is considered assured.

If Mr. Hearst should be induced to drop his fight against Democracy, and if Senator La Follette should quietly drop out of "politics" and devote his autumn to lectures from the chautaulieves is represented by his own ideas and ideals.

Three big and overshadowing personalities appear among the headliners in every discussion of the probable course of the Presidential campaign. They are the personalities of Theodore Roosevelt, Robert M. La Follette, and William R. Hearst.

If any two of them should hold aloof from participation in the campaign, the other one might easily determine the result of the election.

They are all leaders of radical opinion; all very much afike, and all as different as zenith and nadir. An analytical discussion of their characters and opinions and purposes would amount to a thorough consideration of the whole present-day trend of public opinion in this country.

As they are looked upon today, Mr. Hearst is out to defeat, perhaps to wherek, the Democratic party.

Mr. Roosevelt is a thoroughly good party man, devoted to Republicanism, but there is uncertainty as to how far he will deem it proper for himself, being President, to interfere in a Presidential campaign.

Concerning La Follette.

Mr. La Follette is a Republican, as Mr. Looked the Lambailton of the uncertainty as to how far he will deem it proper for himself, being President, to interfere in a Presidential campaign.

Farrell isn't proclaiming the news to the country at large, plans already are under way for the strengthening of the New York Americans. Farrell has a scout on the road sizing up players, and Manager Elberfeld, now and then, chases off and looks at promising material. The club will put out about $25,000 in new men this season, and the additions to the team will be tried out in the fall. This plan was Bertha B. Johnson and Philander C. Johnson, executors.

It would be a hard matter to build up Highlanders, for the talent in the minors is pretty well placed even now. Major league clubs that have loaned players to smaller teams have the right of first selection of any stars that be developed. Fortunately, the Highlanders have been generous to smaller clubs and are in position to do some selecting themselves. The Eastern League will furnish at least three players for the Yankees and the Southern League clubs and are in position to do some selecting themselves.
